2. FURTHER ACTION

If a demand for international preliminary examination is made, this opinion will usually be considered to be a written opinion of the International Preliminary Examining Authority ("IPEA"). However, this does not apply where the applicant chooses an Authority other than this one to be the IPEA and the chosen IPEA has notified the International Bureau under Rule 68.1bis(b) that written opinions of this International Searching Authority will not be so considered.

If this opinion is, as provided above, considered to be a written opinion of the IPEA, the applicant is invited to submit to the IPEA a written reply together, where appropriate, with amendments, before the expiration of three months from the date of mailing of Form PCT/ISA/220 or before the expiration of 22 months from the priority date, whichever expires later.

WRITTEN OPINION OF THE
INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.
PCT/EP2004/008706

Box No. I Basis of the opinion

1. With regard to the language, this opinion has been established on the basis of the international application in the language in which it was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.
☐ This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the following language , which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rules 12.3 and 23.1(b)).
2. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and necessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:
 - a. type of material:
☐ a sequence listing
☐ table(s) related to the sequence listing
 - b. format of material:
☐ in written format
☐ in computer readable form
 - c. time of filing/furnishing:
☐ contained in the international application as filed.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority for the purposes of search.
3. ☐ In addition, in the case that more than one version or copy of a sequence listing and/or table relating thereto has been filed or furnished, the required statements that the information in the subsequent or additional copies is identical to that in the application as filed or does not go beyond the application as filed, as appropriate, were furnished.
4. Additional comments:

WRITTEN OPINION OF THE
INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.
PCT/EP2004/008706

Box No. II Priority

1. ☒ The following document has not been furnished:

- ☒ copy of the earlier application whose priority has been claimed (Rule 43*bis*.1 and 66.7(a)).
☐ translation of the earlier application whose priority has been claimed (Rule 43*bis*.1 and 66.7(b)).

Consequently it has not been possible to consider the validity of the priority claim. This opinion has nevertheless been established on the assumption that the relevant date is the claimed priority date.

2. ☐ This opinion has been established as if no priority had been claimed due to the fact that the priority claim has been found invalid (Rules 43*bis*.1 and 64.1). Thus for the purposes of this opinion, the international filing date indicated above is considered to be the relevant date.
3. Additional observations, if necessary:

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43*bis*.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

	No: Claims	1,9

Box No. VIII Certain observations on the international application

The following observations on the clarity of the claims, description, and drawings or on the question whether the claims are fully supported by the description, are made:

see separate sheet

Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following documents:

- D1: US 2002/136450 A1 (YAN JIE ET AL) 26 September 2002 (2002-09-26)
- D2: US-B-6 407 7771 (DELUCA MICHAEL JOSEPH) 18 June 2002 (2002-06-18)
- D3: US 2002/131770 A1 (MEIER ROLAND ET AL) 19 September 2002 (2002-09-19)

2. Claim 1 not novel

The present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject-matter of claim 1 is not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT.

The document D1 discloses (the references in parentheses applying to this document):

A method of filtering a red-eye phenomenon from a digital image (par. 5), the method comprising

- using both anthropometric data (par. 33-34) and meta-data (par. 46) associated with the image to identify regions of the image potentially susceptible to red-eye artifacts

The subject-matter of claim 1 is therefore not new (Article 33(1) and (2) PCT)

3. Claim 9 not novel

The above argumentation also applies to independent claim 9, which differs from claim 1 only in that it is formulated in terms of an apparatus claim.

The subject-matter of claim 9 is therefore not new (Article 33(1) and (2) PCT)

4. Claim 2-8 and 10-17 not novel or inventive

Dependent claims 2-8 and 10-17 do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty or inventive step, the reasons being as follows:

4.1 The features of dependent claims 2 and 10 have already been employed for the same purpose in D2, which is situated in the same technical context, see column 3:46-53, column 4:57-67, column 5:40-51. It would therefore be obvious to the person skilled in the art, to apply these features with corresponding effect, thereby arriving at the subject-matter of claim 2 and 10.

4.2 Furthermore, the features of dependent claims 3, 11 (further anthropometric test) and 4, 12 (colour representative of red-eye artifacts) have already been employed for the same purpose in D2, see Figure 10, column 5:52-6:5 and column 2:20-60. It would therefore be obvious to the person skilled in the art, to apply these features with corresponding effect, thereby arriving at the subject-matter of claim 3, 4, 10, 11.

4.3 Furthermore, the features of claim 5 and 13 (colours representative of red-eye based on spectral response, ...) have already been employed for the same purpose in D3, which is situated in the same technical context. D3 discloses a method of transforming data into a device independent data space (par. 74, 80), which uses spectral information (par. 41-43) and which discloses that this space can be used for red eye removal (par. 87). It would therefore be obvious to the person skilled in the art, to apply these features with corresponding effect, thereby arriving at the subject-matter of claim 5 and 13.

The applicant is informed that claim 5 might become patentable when it is clarified, in order to more closely reflect with regard to what is disclosed in the description on page 16 and 17.

4.4 Furthermore, in dependent claims 6-8 and 14-17 structural detail of the method and apparatus, defined 1 and 9 respectively, are set out, all of which insofar as they are not explicitly disclosed in D1, D2 and D3 relate to routine measures normally to be expected from the skilled person.

The subject-matter of claims 2-8 and 10-17 is therefore not new (Article 33(1) and (2) PCT) or lacks an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT).

Re Item VIII

Certain observations on the international application

WRITTEN OPINION OF THE
INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING
AUTHORITY (SEPARATE SHEET)

International application No.

PCT/EP2004/008706

5.1 The application does not meet the requirements of Article 6 PCT, because the method as drafted in claims 1-8 merely contains of an arbitrary choice of method steps, which have no connection between them. The applicant is asked to redraft claims 1-8, accordingly.

5.2 Although claim 1 is drafted in the two-part form some features are incorrectly placed in the characterising portion, as they are disclosed in document D1 in combination with the features placed in the preamble (Rule 6.3(b) PCT).
